Check 21 Disclosures

Disclosures must be provided to members with the first regularly scheduled communication after 10/28/04 (the effective date of Check 21). This disclosure may be provided through regular postal service or through e-mail if the member has agreed to this form of receiving account information. Members may not waive the right to receive the disclosures.

The initial disclosure must be made to any member who currently receives his/her original draft in the monthly statement. You may choose to send an initial disclosure to all members to ensure compliance with the regulation.

When a substitute check is provided to the member, a disclosure must also be present. Model language of the disclosure is found below.

Substitute Check Policy Disclosure Substitute Checks and Your Rights [IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR CHECKING ACCOUNT]

What is a substitute check?

To make check processing faster, federal law permits banks to replace original checks with "substitute checks." These checks are similar in size to original checks with a slightly reduced image of the front and back of the original check. The front of a substitute check states: "This is a legal copy of your check. You can use it the same way you would use the original check." You may use a substitute check as proof of payment just like the original check.

Some or all of the checks that you receive back from us may be substitute checks. This notice describes rights you have when you receive substitute checks from us. The rights in this notice do not apply to original checks or to electronic debits to your account. However, you have rights under other law with respect to those transactions.

What are my rights regarding substitute checks?

In certain cases, federal law provides a special procedure that allows you to request a refund for losses you suffer if a substitute check is posted to your account (for example, if you think that we withdrew the wrong amount from your account or that we withdrew money from your account more than once for the same check.) The losses you may attempt to recover under this procedure may include the amount that was withdrawn from your account and fees that were charged as a result of the withdrawal (for example, bounced check fees).

The amount of your refund under this procedure is limited to the amount of your loss or the amount of the substitute check, whichever is less. You also are entitled to interest on the amount of your refund if your account is an interest-bearing account. If your loss exceeds the amount of the substitute check, you may be able to recover additional amounts under other law.

If you use this procedure, you may receive up to (amount, not lower than $2500) of your refund (plus interest if your account earns interest) within (number of days, not more than 10) business days after we received your claim and the remainder of your refund (plus interest if your account earns interest) not later than (number of days, not more than 45) calendar days after we received your claim.

We may reverse the refund (including any interest on the refund) if we later are able to demonstrate that the substitute check was correctly posted to your account.

How do I make a claim for a refund?

If you believe that you have suffered a loss relating to a substitute check that you received and that was posted to your account, please contact us at (contact information, for example phone number, mailing address, e-mail address). You must contact us within (number of days, not less than 40) calendar days of the date that we mailed (or otherwise delivered by a means to which you agreed) the substitute check in question or the account statement showing that the substitute check was posted to your account, whichever is later. We will extend this time period if you were not able to make a timely claim because of extraordinary circumstances. Your claim must include—

- A description of why you have suffered a loss (for example, you think the amount withdrawn was incorrect);
- An estimate of the amount of your loss;
- An explanation of why the substitute check you received is insufficient to confirm that you suffered a loss; and

- A copy of the substitute check [and/or] the following information to help us identify the substitute check: (identifying information, for example the check number, the name of the person to whom you wrote the check, the amount of the check).

From the Director...

Amended rules:

4 CSR 100-2.045 Member Business Loans and 4 CSR Deposit of Public Funds are being amended. The proposed amendments were published in the December 1, 2004 Missouri Register for a thirty day comment period. No public hearing is scheduled. Anyone may file a statement in support of or in opposition to these proposed amendments with the Director, Division of Credit Unions, PO Box 1607, Jefferson City, Missouri 65102. The proposed amended rules are attached.

Meeting with credit unions:

With the change from our annual survey to one following the credit union's examination, we are scheduling our meetings with credit unions in March or April 2005. This should ensure the availability of the results from the 2004 survey and good weather for our travel throughout the state.

Personnel changes:

Effective January 1, 2005 Kevin Weaver is being promoted to Chief Examiner and Ken Bonnot to Deputy Director. Kevin is a ten year employee and a graduate of Lincoln University. Ken is a nine year employee and a graduate of the University of Missouri. Our congratulations to both.

Cindy Taylor on December 31, 2004 will retire following twenty-six years of service to the Division of Credit Unions and Missouri credit unions. We wish Cindy an active retirement.

David Bohrer has announced his retirement effective April 1, 2005. In a future issue more will be written about David's accomplishments.

Commission meeting:

The Credit Union Commission next meeting is scheduled for January 13, 2005.

Call report information:

End of year call report forms will be sent to credit unions in mid December. All credit unions must complete the entire 5300 long form this cycle. Completed reports are to be submitted to the assigned examiner by January 24, 2005.

Interest rates:

The Federal Reserve (the Fed) is continuing to raise rates from a historically very low level. Although some concerns remain about the economy and inflation, the consensus is rates will continue to rise at a "measured" pace. Credit unions must be aware of and remain responsive to changes in market rates. A good policy is to review rates on shares and loans at least as often as the Fed makes adjustments. Failure to do so leads to liquidity and profitability issues.

Check 21 information:

The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System has issued two consumer publications on Check 21. The "Consumer Guide to Check 21 and Substitute Checks" describes how the new law may affect consumers and provides information on how to resolve problems associated with the receipt of substitute checks.

A second consumer guide, "What You Should Know about Your Checks," discusses more broadly how check payments have changed, including the increased use of electronic check conversion, a process separate from Check 21. In the check conversion process, a consumer authorizes the use of information from their paper check to make an electronic payment at the point of sale or when paying a bill by mail.

These publications are also available from the Federal Reserve Board's Publications Fulfillment, Mail Stop 127, Washington, DC 20551, 202-452-3244.
